

Abstract of the Disclosure

A hydrogel contact lens is described, the HEMA basic material of which is copolymerized with SPE and amino acids. The water retention capability and the refractive index of the resulting contact lens are similar to those of the natural cornea.

Y001507P-00T133E0000